Arrives On: 22 Jan 26

Day 7: Little Bay (Montserrat)

Welcome to one of the most unusual and fascinating islands in the Caribbean. Prior to the recent volcanic eruptions that commenced in 1995, Montserrat was considered as one of the "Insiders" favourite Caribbean islands. It was also home to producer George Martin's Air Studios Montserrat recording studio where some of the world's most famous recording artists, including Eric Clapton, Little River Band and Paul McCartney among many others, used to record their albums. Recent history has brought some unfortunate blows to the island ranging from hurricanes (Hugo in 1989) to multiple volcanic eruptions that destroyed the lovely capital city of Plymouth.

DiscoverMORE

Volcano Views, Plymouth & Monserrat Volcano Observatory (extra expense)

Experience the incredible Soufrière Hills Volcano on Montserrat from Plymouth port and discover why it is often referred to as the "Pompeii of the Caribbean." A visit to Montserrat is incomplete without encountering the island's most captivating natural phenomenon. On July 18, 1995, the volcano, which had been dormant for four centuries, erupted spectacularly, releasing 20 feet of ash over the southern coast. This marked the beginning of a series of eruptions that unleashed hot gas and rock flows, ultimately burying the once-thriving city of Plymouth. The lives of Montserrat's 12,000 residents were changed forever. Your journey begins at the Montserrat Volcano Observatory, where you'll gain invaluable insights into life on an island with an active volcano. Next, you will visit the renowned Buried City. Once the vibrant capital of Montserrat, Plymouth is now shrouded beneath layers of volcanic ash and debris. As you walk through this haunting yet awe-inspiring site, you'll witness the devastating impact of the eruptions and experience the eerie stillness of a place that has been frozen in time. Historical photographs of Plymouth before the disaster will provide a striking contrast, showcasing the city's lively past against its current, somber state.

Activity Level: Moderate, Duration: 3 hours
